ACME MILLS CASES CALLED.

Commonwealth Ready But Defense Asked For Continuance.

NOT DECIDED AT PRESS HOUR.

Motion Was To Be Heard At Adjourned Session At Four O'clock.

Circuit Court did but little business last week, but important matters are on the docket for this week.
The Acme Mills cases were set for yesterday and at 11 o'clock the commonwealth announced ready under indictment No. 91, which is jointly against R. H. DeTreville and J.
B. Galbreath, charging that they fraudulently paid a dividend not earned by the company of which they were officers. The defense asked time to prepare an affidavit for continuance and the court adjourned till 4 o'clock.

A large number of special veniremen were summoned for the case.
The Court decided to try the case and began making up the jury.

INNES' BAND

One of The Noted Musical Organizations Coming Soon.

Music lovers are looking forward to the coming of Innes' New York Orchestral Band on Wednesday Oct.
18th, matinee and night, at Union Tabernacle.

To those who have not heard them, Innes and his band are a revelation.
It is not so long since, that band players in arguing for the superior merits of their respective organizations would claim precedence on the ground that one played LOUDER than the other. But this is all changed, until now the palm of superiority is universally awarded to beauty and purity of tone, a result unquestionably due to the refined methods which Innes brought about in his wonderful organization.

The fact that some notable Soloists are to take part in the performances promises to make the engagement a memorable one. Most prominent among these are Beatrice Van Loon the well-known Soprano from the Philadelphia-Chicago Opera Company, Adolph H.
Engstrom, the famous Tenor from Stockholm, Sweden.

300 PERISH WHEN LARGE DAM BREAKS

Towns of Austin and Costello, Pa., Wiped Out By An Awful Flood.

LIKE FLOOD OF JOHNSTOWN.

Flames Started By Broken Gas Pipes After Torrent Wrecked
The Houses.

Austin, Pa., Oct. 2.—Over 300 persons are believed to have perished in a flood caused by the breaking of a paper mill dam 1½ miles above Austin. Austin was practically demolished and the wreckage took fire.
Many persons are supposed to have been burned to death. It is estimated that at least 1,000 houses were destroyed in Austin. The dam, which was of concrete, had broken once before. The State has sent aid to the sufferers.

Costello, 3 miles down the narrow valley, was also destroyed. The loss of life there fortunately was only 3.
Austin, with a population of 3200 was in a valley 400 yards wide along a small stream. The dam above the town was 530 feet long, 49 feet high and 38 feet at the base. It had been repaired by a paper mill and the water had begun to flow over it for the first time. Many people were at the dam when it gave way and turned loose 500,000,000 gallons of water.

The valley is similar to the one swept by the great Johnstown, Pa., flood May 31, 1889, when 6000 lives were lost.

THOUSAND BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

It is estimated to-night that a thousand buildings have been torn from their foundations and crushed in the flood or have been destroyed by fire. The water made its way through the business section of the town and left only four buildings standing. The valley of Freeman's Run is narrow and the town was built along its banks. All the buildings in the lower part of the valley were swept clear of their foundations by the torrent and many of those which remained quickly fell a prey to the flames.

WHITE PLAGUE

Subject of Lecture By Mr.
Kerner Last Night.

The Health car sent out by the Kentucky Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis reached the city Saturday afternoon and was placed on a siding at the L. & N. depot. It will leave this morning at 9:31.

The car is in charge of Eugene Kerner, Secretary of the Association, who lectured last night at the Christian church through the courtesy of the W. C. T. U. which rearranged its program. The meeting proved to be one of very great interest and the attendance was large. Many availed themselves of the invitation to visit the Health car at the depot, during the time it has been in the city.

ITALY'S FLEET OPENS FIRE ON TRIPOLI.

Sinks Turkish Torpedo Boats In Harbor Of Tripoli.

MUSSULMEN READY TO FIGHT.

First Moves of The War Board Give Advantages To Italy.

New York, Oct. 2.—A naval battle was fought Saturday off the port of Durazzo, on the west coast of Albania, where Italian warships attacked two Turkish torpedo boats.

Italian warships under the command of the Duke of the Abruzzi bombed the Turkish seaport of Prevesa, destroying the Government houses there and disabling a Turkish torpedo boat.

There have been no casualties at Tripoli, but Italians are reported to have landed west of Tripoli. The Turkish defenders of the city have been ordered to resist desperately the invasion by Italy.

A large Italian cruiser is reported to have gone ashore in Tripoli harbor.

Italy has captured the Turkish transport Derna. The Turkish Governor General of Tripoli, who was a passenger, was taken prisoner with a large body of troops.

Two Turkish transports, with men and munitions aboard, have been driven ashore by Italian warships near Prevesa.

Two Turkish destroyers badly damaged were run ashore in the Gulf of Arta to escape capture.

Two Italian barges, carrying an expeditionary force, were sunk by the Turks in Tripoli harbor.

Turkey has issued another appeal to the Powers to halt Italy's invasion.

Turkey has asked the United States to protect her subjects in Italy.

Italy, in a note to the Powers, says the war will be of short duration.

Tripoli is 630 miles from Rome and 1250 miles from Constantinople.
The Adriatic Sea separates the two countries. Italy has 225,000 soldiers and Turkey 375,000. Each has a reserve of 300,000.

Italy's navy is far superior to Turkey's, that of the latter having only one battleship worth mentioning.
